

Job Opportunity

Agency: Mi'kmaq Customary Law Program- the Program is a community based Aboriginal justice initiative for aboriginal People in Nova Scotia in conflict with the law

Position: Halifax Regional Municipality

Location: Covering Halifax Regional Municipality and surrounding areas.

Specific Requirements:

- University degree preferred
- Mi'kmaq language a preferred
- Knowledge and familiarity with Mi'kmaq culture and communities
- Knowledge of Mi'kmaq Legal support Network and other Aboriginal Justice Programs
- Ability to work with families and youth in crisis
- Must possess good communication skills and public speaking skills
- Computer skills required
- Must possess valid Nova Scotia Driver's license and have access to a vehicle.
- Must pass Criminal Record Screening and Child Abuse Register

General Description:

The Case Worker is responsible for case management and delivery of the Mi'kmaq Customary Law Program. The case worker will be responsible for the organization and delivery Justice Circles and client supervision. This individual will be to work independently and be familiar with mediation and conflict resolution techniques. This individual must be able to facilitate group discussions and encourage individuals in expressing emotions and feelings. This individual must maintain a strong community focus and be involved in all aspects of MLSN Promotion.

Salary: Upon Request

Deadline for applications is September 11, 2019

Please include a cover letter explaining your interest in this position.

Forward resumes and cover letter with two references to:

Rina Denny
Mi'kmaw Legal Support Network
PO Box 7915, Eskasoni, NS
B1W 1B7
rdenny@mlsn.ca